

Some people say we are confused

Some people say we are confused, because they don't understand us

But we're not confused

Or confusing

Some people are only attracted to one gender, and assume everyone else is just like them. That's a mistake - a lot of people may be like that

We're attracted to more than one gender

It doesn't matter how attracted

It doesn't matter how many more genders

It doesn't matter who we've dated

Bisexuality isn't about being indecisive, or cool, or greedy. It's simply this: attraction to more than one gender
